

INTERNSHIP ANNOUNCEMENT FOR RISING 2Ls SUMMER 2019 LEGAL INTERNS

Opening Date: January 4, 2019 Closing Date: February 4, 2019

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF POSITION

Neighborhood Legal Services Program of the District of Columbia will have the following openings for up to seven legal interns for Summer 2019:

- Two interns in the Family Law Unit
- Two interns in the Housing Law Unit
- Two interns in the Economic Security Unit
- One intern in the Brief Services Unit (BSU)

Students currently in their first year of law school are eligible to apply for these internships.

Interns will start the week of June 3, 2019 and end the week of August 9, 2019 (start and end dates are negotiable if a certain number of hours are needed) Interns will be expected to work full time, Monday through Friday, from 9:30 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. One Family Law intern, one Housing Law intern, and one Economic Security intern will be located at NLSP's Deanwood office (4609 Polk Street NE). One Economic Security intern, one Housing Law intern, and the BSU intern will be at NLSP'S Headquarters office (64 New York Avenue NE). One Family Law Unit Intern will be located at NLSP's Southeast Office (2412 Minnesota Avenue SE).

PRIMARY RESPONSIBILITIES

- Family Law Unit and Housing Law Unit interns will assist supervising attorneys through all stages of the litigation process, including client interviews, drafting complaints and motions, filing and responding to discovery, and preparing for hearings and trial.
- Brief Services interns will assist supervising attorneys through all stages of the brief services process, including client interviews, providing brief legal advice in all of NLSP's practice areas, and assisting clients to fill out pro se court documents.
- Economic Security interns will assist with cases such as criminal record sealing, complaints involving the Fair Criminal Records Screening Amendment Act, and consumer law issues. They will also survey patrons of our library-based clinics utilizing a pre-developed survey instrument to assist with an evaluation of our project.

- Interns will have the opportunity to attend client meetings, court appearances, and community events.
- Interns will receive training about relevant substantive law, litigation, and NLSP's approach of using the law to fight poverty.
- Interns will assist attorneys with legal research and writing.
- All interns will help staff the D.C. Superior Court Small Claims Resource Center.

EXPERIENCE AND QUALIFICATIONS

All rising 2Ls from accredited law schools are eligible to apply for an internship. Primary selection criteria include

- (1) a commitment to serving low-income clients;
- (2) passion for public interest law, particularly for civil legal services;
- (3) strong academic performance, including excellent research and writing skills;
- (4) clinical or other relevant experience working with low-income communities;
- (5) exceptional communication skills (written and oral) and strong interpersonal skills; and
- (6) an ability to work independently.

COMPENSATION

The internship is not paid; we will work with law schools that fund or provide credit to students.

ABOUT NLSP

Since 1964, Neighborhood Legal Services Program for the District of Columbia ("NLSP") has provided free legal services in civil cases to low-income residents of the District of Columbia. NLSP pioneered the concept of a law office rooted in the neighborhoods that it serves and established landmark precedents that have retained their vitality and relevance. NLSP remains embedded in D.C.'s most low-income communities, builds its work on strong partnerships with community-based organizations, and seeks to achieve lasting change for its clients and their communities by using a full range of advocacy tools. Its diverse, multi-lingual, and passionate staff embraces an explicitly anti-poverty mission and shares a deep commitment to securing meaningful access to justice.
